

PIANO MASTERCLASS

April 3 – 8, 2015

Gosau am Dachstein, Austria

Svetlana Bogino & Vladimir Ogarkov
piano professors

Within the framework of the Gosau Classical Music Festival a piano masterclass for pianists is announced. The masterclass is offered to young and professional musicians seeking improvement and perfection of their performing skills.

The following disciplines are offered:

- Piano solo
- Chamber music with piano
- Co-rehearsal

The masterclass includes 4 individual lessons, 60 min. each, two with each of the professors, and a final concert

Possibility of additional individual lectures/lessons during the course

Practice piano available

Group size – max. 5 participants

Working languages: Italian, Russian, Serbian

Communication languages: English, German

Beautiful inspirational surroundings of the Austrian Alps

Easy to access by air, train, bus or car

Friendly atmosphere

Comfortable accommodation in apartments with cooking facilities

In close proximity to Salzburg, Hallstatt, Bad Ischl

Registration fee € 100.00

Participation fee € 240.00 (per person)

Accommodation from € 35 per person per day with breakfast, other options available

More information and registration at:

www.gosau-music.at/masterclass

Tel.: +43 (6136) 88 36 13

Contact person: Ljuba Ogarkova

Svetlana Bogino was born in Moscow into the family of Georgyi Bogino, an outstanding musician, pedagogue and a specialist in piano tuning. Since early childhood Svetlana had been deeply influenced by consistent communication with such famous musicians of the time as Arthur Rubinstein, Svyatoslav Richter, Emil Gilels, Flieyer, Ginsburg and others. Svetlana Bogino is a graduate of Moscow Tchaikovsky Conservatory (class of prof. Oborin), a post-graduate of the Gnessins Institute (class of prof. Berlin). Her teaching career began back in 1968 in Moscow. Her students have done excellent musical careers throughout Europe and Americas.

Vladimir Ogarkov was born in Voronezh, Russia, into a family of university professors. A graduate of Moscow Tchaikovsky Conservatory (class of prof. Emil Gilels). Vladimir Ogarkov participated in the International Competition in Bucharest, worked as assistant to the pianist Emil Gilels and performed widely. Vladimir Ogarkov has had a successful musical career at the Alexandrov Red Army Ensemble. He performed along with outstanding singers at the Bolshoi Theater, Metropolitan Opera in New York, Olympia Theatre in Paris, Kennedy Center in Washington. In 1990 he was awarded the Honored Artist of Russia title. As a pianist, he is known for his interpretations of Ravel, Stravinsky, Schoenberg, Bartok, Prokofieff, Chachaturyan.

From 1995 until 2013 Vladimir Ogarkov and Svetlana Bogino taught piano at Novi Sad Academy of Arts, Serbia, and Tsetinie Academy of Arts, Montenegro. They continue to deliver master classes in Italy, Slovenia, Serbia.